	Bug Correction	Meeting No: 02	Date: 13/05/2026
			Sprint No: 02

- Data Type Validation Failure: It was identified that the system accepts numbers in fields intended exclusively for text, due to the lack of a filter that restricts non-alphabetic characters, affecting the integrity of the data entered.

- Date Validation Error: The system is using the current date incorrectly and is also not validating if the entered date is too old.

There is an error in the formula for calculating weeks of pregnancy.

There may be a problem with calendar handling or a date discrepancy.

```
--- Prenatal Calculator (Hospital de Calderón Standards) ---
Method: 1. LMP (FUM) | 2. Current Week (Direct)
1
Enter Date of Last Menstrual Period (YYYY-MM-DD): 2028-08-10

-----
>>> RESULT: WEEK -117 OF PREGNANCY
>>> TRIMESTER: 1st Trimester
>>> ESTIMATED DUE DATE (FPP): 2029-05-17
```

- Medical appointment scheduling error: The system asks you to enter the date and time but does not check if it is available or not; likewise, it is not updated with the current date since any year can be entered

```
--- Medical Appointment Record ---
Enter date (YYYY-MM-DD): 2006-8-20
Enter time (HH:mm): 14
Registered. Upcoming:
- Date: 2006-8-20 | Time: 14
```

- Lack of medical history: there is no menu where you can see the mother's condition during pregnancy and the advice she has been given.

```
--- Persist Medical History ---
Enter note: esta bien la señora
History Records Saved.
```

- Duplicate declarations: The error of declaring variables with their data type (double, String) more than once in the same block, which prevented the program from being compiled, was corrected.

System.out.println("Weight (g): ");
double weight = scanner.nextDouble();

System.out.println("Height (cm): ");
double height = scanner.nextDouble();
scanner.nextLine();
